Gemstones: Our modern world is built on technology, and some of the smallest rocks and minerals find their way into our phones and devices. To alleviate digital overload, people are using healing stones to reconnect with nature, prioritize self-care, practice meditation, and increase their well-being. Who can resist the undeniable beauty of healing stones? But they are much more than just eye candy.

Yantras

The Yantra is an instrument created by the power of mantras. The mantras channelize energies of the Universe for various purposes. Every yantra is made by invoking these chants on a special paper. The paper has a set of numbers written on it in a grid. These are written in special ink. The paper is energized by the chanting. It is touched by pics and holy objects. This is then folded and put into a silver casing.
