The image shows a romantic couple in a close embrace. In the foreground, there is a box of Snovitra XL (Vardenafil 60mg) and a blister pack containing several yellow tablets. The box is red and yellow, with the text 'SNOVITRA XL VARDENAFIL TABLETS 60 mg 10 * 10 TABLETS'. The blister pack is blue and white, with the text 'Vardenafil Tablets 60 mg Snovitra XL'. A large, semi-transparent watermark 'Snovitra Superpower' is overlaid on the image.

Men experiencing erection failure can consume the 60mg tablet with water. Men need to consume the medication one hour before the sensual communication. This helps men to gain firmer erections due to the greater flow of blood to the male organ.

Causes of Erection Failure or Impotence in Males

1. Medication

A lot of medications can lead to erectile disorder as a side effect. A lot of medications can impact the functioning of the central nervous system. This can cause erection failure in males.

2. High blood pressure and high cholesterol

Hypertension (high blood pressure) and high cholesterol can greatly impact the health of a man in a variety of ways. You need to keep a check on your blood pressure and even cholesterol levels. This helps to reduce the risk of suffering from several health problems.

3. Heart problems

When the blood flows to the male organ then erections take place. If the heart is not functioning properly then it can cause problems while trying to attain or even maintain an erection during the sensual contact with the lady.

4. Neurological disorders and nerve problems

The brain sends various messages to the male organ to be able to get and even attain an erection. If any kind of problem arises in the path of this message communication then you won't be able to get an erection. There are a lot of neurological and nerve disorders that can lead to erection failure in men. These might be

- Alzheimer's disease
- Brain tumours
- Multiple sclerosis (MS)
- Parkinson's disease
- Stroke

Those males who continuously ride bicycles for long hours are also known to experience great pressure on their buttocks. This can have an impact on the nerves that stimulate an erection. Various types of surgeries can also cause nerve damage. This might include spinal injuries, a fractured hip, or radiotherapy around the sensual organ.

5. Diabetes and endocrine problems

Your hormones play a great role in controlling your sensual functioning. Your endocrine system also generates hormones. Any kind of problem in the endocrine system can impact your sensual health. This might even comprise the ability to get and even maintain an erection during the sensual contact.
